The European Public Prosecutor's Office:
Cooperation with its European Partners

Hosted by the German Federal Ministry of Justice and Consumer Protection with support by the European Commission

We are pleased to invite you to attend the online conference on "The European Public Prosecutor's Office – Cooperation with its European partners" on 19 November 2020 (10:00 until 16:30 hrs). The conference will be hosted by the German Federal Ministry of Justice and Consumer Protection in the context of Germany's EU Council Presidency, and will be supported by the European Commission.

The purpose of the conference is to give the European Public Prosecutor's Office (EPPO) an opportunity to introduce itself and to promote effective cooperation with the national authorities and other partners of EPPO. The conference will be attended by representatives of the EU Member States, the EU Institutions and relevant agencies. Please find enclosed the draft programme of the conference.

While our original plan had been to invite for a conference to be held in Trier, Germany, the COVID-19 crisis has forced us to organise an online event instead. This also means that all speakers and members of the three discussion panels will be joining us from different locations and connected to our studio here in Berlin from where we will host the conference. The conference will be interpreted simultaneously into English, French and German.

Participants will be able to follow the conference via a livestream on a dedicated website. After accreditation, participants will receive a password which will enable them to interact with other participants via a chat function and ask questions during the panel discussions. This password will be distributed to accredited participants a few days before the conference. You are invited to register three conference participants.

Please register by 11 November 2020 here:
